REDUCTION OF PAY STIRS EMPLOYEES

New Slash Expected to Bring Immediate Strike Vote

JEWELL TALKS ON SITUATION

Action Will Intensify Present Dissatisfaction, He Says

(Bulletin)

CINCINNATI — (Associated Press) — A strike vote of approximately 1,200,000 railway workers of the United States will be taken by the individual unions affected by the railway labor board wage reductions, recently ordered and pending at a conference of union leaders here today.

The vote in each organization will be returnable within thirty days after the board announces a wage cut for that class of employees, one of the shop crafts, whose reduction was ordered by the board today, being returnable June 30.

STRIKE FORECAST

CINCINNATI — (Associated Press) — New wage reductions for shopmen, ordered by the railroad labor board today, can but intensify the present feeling of dissatisfaction with railway labor conditions and will at least result in an immediate strike vote, returnable June 30, according to B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts unions, here today for a railroad strike conference.

While refusing to comment on the decision until he had seen a copy, Mr. Jewell declared any reduction at present was wholly unjustified and unreasonable.

Evidence presented at hearings before the board, Mr. Jewell said, showed that shopmen were receiving a minimum wage necessary to the proper support of their families at present.

The new July wage reduction cuts seven cents an hour from that wage, he pointed out.

With the strike vote returnable June 30, a walkout could be called on July 1, the day the cut goes into effect, although Mr. Jewell refused to predict whether such action would be taken.

The shop union head said he would be able to make a more definite statement on the decision later.

CLASH STAGED BY COURTS, CLOCKS

County Offices Follow New Time, by Old Chronometer

Altho the court house clock will continue to show the hour on central time, offices in the building will conform their opening and closing hours to the schedule adopted by the remainder of the city.

A majority of the offices will open at 7 o'clock in the morning, old time, and will close at 4 p. m. Formerly they were open for business at 8 a. m. and closed at 5 p. m.

The change is made for convenience of patrons.

Courts will operate on a schedule of 9 o'clock in the old time. Court will convene at eight in the morning, instead of nine, the hour established by long custom.

County commissioners' office hours will not conform in the slightest to the innovation.

The new open and close at the new hours as heretofore, Commissioner Craig averred.

"Central time is the only time we are recognizing in coming to law. We are not going to any other time."

HITS DRY CRITICS

Women Ask Movies, Newspapers to Eliminate Ridicule

Prohibition and its enforcement, unless you desire to do it, is a subject of a resolution being adopted by women's organizations over the country. The resolution, adopted by the City Federation of Women's Clubs of Lima, unananimously reads as follows:

"That every theatrical manager, movie manager and editor, whether of a daily, weekly or monthly publication, be requested to see to it that jokes ridiculing prohibition and its enforcement are eliminated from any production, film or article coming under his jurisdiction and that the matter be treated with the seriousness that the subject merits and that this resolution be printed in the different papers and magazines throughout the country."

The resolution was presented by Mrs. S. M. Williams, chairman of the Community Service Committee of the Federation of Clubs. The committee is affiliated with the Department of American Citizenship.

GIRL PRAISED FOR TAKING LIFE

Miss Beal Congratulated on Killing F. W. Anderson

KANSAS CITY. — (Associated Press) — Letters of sympathy and praise for her "courage and good marksmanship" were received today by Miss Peggy Marie Beal as she lay on a hospital bed fighting a battle for life against a wound sustained when she attempted to take her own life early Saturday after she had shot and killed Frank Warren Anderson, department store welfare director, in a local hotel.

One of the letters was signed by a Kansas City doctor and his wife and another by a local nurse.

"Our sympathy is yours," read one of the letters. "The world needs more girls who have the courage and ability to shoot straight. We regret, however, that you shot yourself. There is plenty to live for. The stars are in there yet and the flowers bloom the same as ever."

Miss Beal was on the road to recovery, hospital attendants said.

Altho she refused to divulge information about relatives, declining to comment on a report that she was married, a Dayton, Ohio, dispatch stated that the information there was to the effect that Steven Beal, an employee of a Terre Haute, Ind., iron works, was the former husband of Marie L. Beal, and that they had two sons, Steven Beal, Jr., 16, and Louis, 13.

The dispatch stated the couple had been divorced.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beal, present wife of the iron worker, was authority for the information. Steven Beal spells his name with two 'l's while the divorced nurse spells her name with one 'l'.

Physicians were watching closely over Miss Beal's bedside today allowing no one to converse with her.

Three policemen are patting themselves on the back—careful not to touch the spots that were thumped—and thanking their lucky stars it was not a larger car that fell on them Monday night at Elm and Michigan.

The trio, Captain George Strick and Detectives Willis Kipker and Ward Taylor, escaped with slight injuries from a Ford touring car which was struck by a machine driven by Louis Moebus, 310 E. Spring-st. Fisk-Pursell piano salesman.

They were answering an emergency call and headed south on Michigan. Moebus was going to Elm. He swerved to the left, but side swiped the other machine, overturning it near the curb.

None of the occupants had a chance to jump. Taylor and Kipker suffered cuts and bruises, but struck Tuesday morning held up for the inspection of friends his right hand, on the little finger of which was a tiny abrasion, hardly discernible. They will probably be on duty Tuesday night. Moebus was not injured.

NEGOTIATIONS TO RE-OPEN
LONDON — (Associated Press) — Arthur Griffith and his colleagues on the Irish delegation which has been discussing the Irish situation with the British cabinet, will leave Dublin tonight, it is announced, for a resumption of their negotiations with the Colonial Secretary Churchill tomorrow.

The Daily Mail's political correspondent says British government circles believe Griffith and Michael Collins have agreed to observe the full terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty, even the this means throwing Eamon De Valera overboard, despite their recent pact with him, while the Dublin correspondent of the same newspaper reports the impression that the Collins-De Valera pact will be abandoned after the elections.

JUDGE J. G. JOHNSON IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

COLUMBUS — Political observers in Ohio today were looking forward to an interesting race for the Democratic nomination for governor following the announcement that Judge James G. Johnson of the state supreme court would be a candidate.

With A. V. Donahy of New Philadelphia, and T. J. Duffy of the state industrial commission, already avowed seekers of the nomination, the contest becomes a three-cornered affair.

Judge Johnson's announcement that he would try for the nomination came after he had been notified that the Cuyahoga-co Democratic executive committee in a meeting in Cleveland had endorsed his candidacy. He had little to say other than that he had been strongly urged by many of his friends to enter the race and that he had agreed to stand for the nomination.

The London press is taking sides in the controversy over the capture of Pettigoe from the Sinn Feiners by British troops. Some think it will be a valuable lesson to the Republican extremists, while other condemn it sharply as an invasion of free state territory.

These developments, it was said, cleared the way to unhampered completion of building projects amounting to $200,000,000.

Mader, with Timothy "Big Tim" Murphy, recently was released from jail following the indictment with connection with bomb outrages and the slaying of two policemen.

Latest developments indicated a return to power of labor leaders removed by activities of Mader and Murphy.

Advocates of acceptance of the Landis award received their strength from reports from Cincinnati that the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor would order adherence to the arbitration agreement made by Kenesaw M. Landis, former federal judge.

MORE IRISH SENT TO WAR FRONT

Reinforcements to Meet British in Belleek Sector

NEW OUTBURST IN BELFAST

Street Fighting Resumed—Bullets Rain on Hospital

BELFAST — (United Press) — Irish reinforcements are being rushed into the Belleek sector for resumption of the battle with the British army.

The Imperial troops still hold the town of Pettigoe, which they captured Sunday. Their lines extend over a front of about a mile, penetrating into free state territory.

(Pettigoe is on the border, part of the town being in Ulster and part in the free state.)

The Irish are expected to launch a counter-attack if the British attempt to move upon Magheramena Castle or the town of Belleek, their next objectives.

There was a heavy outburst of firing in Belfast streets today and several bullets struck a hospital but there were no casualties. Arson squads put the torch to a large warehouse which burned with extensive damages.

CHICAGO'S LABOR WAR NEAR END

Indicted Union Chief Resigns—Wage Award Accepted

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Peace in Chicago's strife-torn building trades situation was predicted today with reports that Fred Mader, indicted president of the Building Trades Council, had agreed at a meeting of union leaders to resign and that all of the building trades unions would accept the Landis wage award.

These developments, it was said, cleared the way to unhampered completion of building projects amounting to $200,000,000.

Mader, with Timothy "Big Tim" Murphy, recently was released from jail following the indictment with connection with bomb outrages and the slaying of two policemen.

EX-ACTRESS DIES FROM INJURY

Lillian Russell's Death Due to Accident Aboard Ship

HURT ON TRIP FROM EUROPE

Violently Thrown During Heavy Storm at Sea

PITTSBURGH — (Associated Press) — Mrs. Lillian Russell Moore, whose death was announced early today at her home in this city, had been ill for several weeks following an attack suffered while on shipboard when she was returning to this country from Europe. It was believed, however, by her physicians last Saturday that she had passed the crisis and that she would recover.

She was conscious until the end, which came at 2:20 o'clock.

Mrs. Moore, former stage star, who was the wife of Alexander P. Moore, publisher of the Pittsburgh Leader, later suffered a relapse and yesterday afternoon was so ill that members of the family were summoned to the bedside. Her physicians, however, refused to give up hope and early in evening were so confident that she would survive that they arranged for a conference to be held here this morning with Dr. John B. Dever, of Philadelphia.

The accident which Dr. Schilldecker, one of her physicians, said was the primary cause of her illness and death, occurred when she was violently thrown on the ship during a storm.

The effects of the injury were not immediately serious, nevertheless, and she gradually failed in health after her arrival home, even those most closely associated with her were not aware of the decline. Mrs. Moore's trip to Europe was undertaken at the request of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis for the purpose of making an intensive study among prospective emigrants to the United States.

Mrs. Moore, who was very well known through the country for her interest in civic matters, was in great demand as a public speaker and only a short time prior to her death filled a number of such engagements. She was actively interested in civic affairs in this city and was a leader in women's movements.

LILLIAN RUSSELL'S CAREER
CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — It was in Chicago that Lillian Russell laid the foundation of what became a spectacular stage career.

One of eight children, she was born in Clinton, Iowa, December 4, 1861, and when six months old was brought to Chicago by her parents. Her father, Charles E. Leonard, was a printer and soon after his arrival here became a member of the printing firm of Knight and Leonard.

It was in the old convent of the Sacred Heart that Helen Louise Leonard, later to become "Lillian Russell," first took up the study of vocal and instrumental music.

Even as a child her voice was marked by its quality and unusual sweetness. Early in life she became a singer in a Chicago church choir.

When she was 14 she moved to New York with her parents and there took up the study of opera under Leo Damrosch.

Her first appearance on the stage was at the age of 15 in the chorus of Edward B. Rice's "Minafore" company.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED
DAYTON — Harvey L. Henderson, cashier and bookkeeper for Brien, Green and Company, brokers, was arrested today on a warrant signed by the company, charging him with the embezzlement of $3500. Police say the amount may run to $10,000. The thefts are alleged to extend over a period of a year.

FIRE CHIEF CLUB OF OHIO IN SESSION
COLUMBUS — More than one hundred fire chiefs from Ohio towns were here today for the annual meeting of the Fire Chiefs' Club of Ohio.

The object of the conference, according to H. A. Dykeman, state fire marshal, was to secure co-operation between fire departments of different towns.

"We are trying to secure standard hose and couplings for apparatus in neighboring towns," Dykeman said, "so assistance can be loaned by one town to another in case of emergency."

There was a heavy outburst of firing in Belfast streets today and several bullets struck a hospital but there were no casualties. Arson squads put the torch to a large warehouse which burned with extensive damages.

NEW CUT ORDERED BY LABOR BOARD

Pay of 400,000 Shop Men Reduced Eighty Per Cent

MADE OVER STRONG PROTEST

Employees' Statements Condemned. Workers' Members Say

CHICAGO — (Associated Press)

Over the strong protest of the three labor representatives on the United States railroad labor board a new wage cut of seven cents an hour for railway shop mechanics and nine cents for freight car men, cutting 400,000 shop men, approximately $60,000,000 a year, was ordered by the board today.

The new wage reduction brought an estimated added saving of $59,669,347 annually to the railroads, following on the heels of a $50,000,000 cut in the wages of maintenance of way laborers last week. The shop crafts decision became effective July 1, the same date as last week's order.

DECISION SCORED
The minority of the labor members pointedly stated that the majority decision was made "with no consideration of human needs" and charges that it fails to carry out the function of the board to set a "just and reasonable" wage.

"The tendency of this decision is to vindicate the propaganda of the railroads and consequently condemn such statements as the employees have been able to bring to public attention," the minority opinion said. It was signed by Albert O. Wharton, W. L. McMeekin and Albert Phillips, the labor representatives.

Supervisory forces of the railway shops war, not decreased. After due consideration, the decision said, it was felt that the duties and responsibilities of such forces warranted maintenance of the present rates.

CLASSES HIT BY CUT
The reduction for the mechanics averaged a little more than 8 per cent, all machinists, boiler makers, blacksmiths, sheet metal workers, electrical workers, carmen (except freight carmen), molders, cupolas, foundrymen and coremakers and the regular and helper apprentices receiving a cut of seven cents an hour. Freight carmen, commonly known as "car knockers" and the object of some of the harshest assaults by the roads in their battle for lower wages, were cut 9 cents.

The larger cut was ordered for the "car knockers" because the board said it believed that their work did not require the same skill as other branches of carmen's work.

The heavier reduction for the freight carmen came under especially severe criticism in the minority report, the labor members declaring there was no justification for discrimination in car work.

Morgan Committee Meets Obstacles in Paris

POLITICS IS INTERFERING

Other Discouraging Developments Cited by Forbes

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK (Special) — Cheerfulness, happily and properly, predominates. But our optimism shouldn't become blind.

Altho most, not all important developments are encouraging. News comes from Paris that the "Morgan committee" is encountering political obstacles in getting down to brass tacks in trying to formulate a huge loan to Germany. The most far-reaching political, financial and economic questions—and prejudices—are involved. However, the necessity for a loan is so urgent that all pride and prejudice may be subordinated.

In its present gay "merger mood" the financial and business community didn't relish the supreme court's decree that Southern Pacific must dispose of Central Pacific. Under the Sherman law such combinations are forbidden; yet, the Transportation Act of 1920 specifically provides for the wholesale merging of our two hundred or more railroads into some twenty systems.

The outlook is that we are closing the "dissolution" chapter and entering a new era of consolidations. Altho a second rather important steel merger was announced, including Midvale, Republic and Inland, Wall Street was quite disappointed over the reception accorded the news. The stocks involved failed to soar. Indeed, the admissions forced from insiders on the witness stand, concerning the inside financial terms, raised questionings as to how purchasers of stocks in the new combination were likely to fare.

Bonds again failed to act exuberantly. As a matter of fact, bond prices at the opening of June are below the prices which ruled at the opening of May. Moreover, underwriters have ceased pouring out unlimited offerings of new issues because of some slackening in demand.

The opinion expressed in this column a month or more ago that the highest grades of bonds were unlikely to advance much farther stands. The indications still are that stocks will gradually attract predominating attention.

Speculators have attached great importance to the superabundance of money available for stock market purposes at very low rates. But call money last week went to 5 per cent and renewed at that figure for the first time since February.

The opinion I have had for some time, namely, that money rates would not go appreciably lower at any time this year, is beginning to be held by others.

Coal strike developments have not contributed to bullishness. The miners appear to be as determined as ever to hold out, and it is noted that they are making no great effort to hasten settlement.

Here and there the flow of business is already being interfered with by shortage of fuel, and as reserve stocks are steadily being eaten into, it is manifest that should the strike last much longer, trade will be more or less seriously interrupted. Perhaps the invitation of the anthracite operators to President Harding to appoint an arbitrator may bear fruit, altho even a solution by this process would take time.

While strike threats of railway unions are being ignored, the possibility of trouble from this source is not overlooked in the highest circles.

The reporting of the queerly-constructed bonus bill by the Senate committee has raised fresh concern in financial and business circles, a concern not wholly allayed by intimations that President Harding is still determined to veto any measure which does not embody ways and means for raising the necessary funds.

It will thus be seen that the picture has two sides.

Never-the-less, it remains beyond dispute that the general trend is in the right direction and that the majority of developments throughout the business world justify confidence that business will be fairly good even during the summer months and that it will become distinctly better in the fall.

For example: Railway car loadings continue on the increase. Copper has touched 14 cents per pound, following heavier sales of the metal last month than in any month in the last two years. Unemployment news continues most encouraging. The automobile boom shows no signs of petering out. The steel industry is cheerful over the outlook. Lead prices have been advanced. So have sugar prices. Wool, after an extraordinary advance during the last twelve months, is very firm. Commodity price changes last week showed a distinct preponderance of advances.

Last week brought fewer commercial failures. Says Bradstreet: "Notable this week is the practical disappearance of the words 'poor' and 'slow' from the trade and industrial reports, and the descriptive word now is mostly 'fair' with a slight sprinkling of 'good' and 'active' rather than in terms in recent months and years."

The Government's report shows the new cotton crop to be in normal condition, at 69.6. Grain crop reports are favorable. The export demand for our major commodities is reasonably good. The latest railroad earnings are more satisfactory. The building boom is retarded only by scarcity of skilled tradesmen and the excessive wages demanded at certain centers. The oil industry is doing well.

INCIDENTS IN AMERICAN HISTORY

Answer to yesterday puzzle: "The Hollanders found New York."

PAGEANT PLANNED FOR LIMA

Historical Drama of County Development is Suggested

If plans started Monday night in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium develop properly within the next five days, this city will be the center of a big historic pageant to be given with a patriotic climax on the Fourth of July.

The proposition is being launched as a benefit for the Social Service Bureau, with the American Insurance Union of this city as the financial backers. All cost of underwriting, approximately $2,000, is being taken care of by the latter organization.

According to preliminary plans discussed Monday night by the representatives of various fraternal, civic and patriotic organizations of the city, the pageant will be presented in about four sections, starting with the days of the Indians and developing along with Allen-co's history up to the present day.

Twenty representatives of different organizations attended Monday night's meeting presided over by Judge Botkins, chairman of Social Service bureau committee. Botkins, with President Glenn C. Webb, of the Chamber of Commerce and Earl Miller, chairman of a special pageant committee named by the beneficial order, were given authority to create an executive committee of seven men and women who will have full power to direct all affairs of the pageant.

All clubs, lodges, associations and organized groups of every type, creed and purpose are being enlisted for co-operation. Between $500 and 1,200 persons will be needed for the pageant, it is stated.

Friday night at 8 o'clock, a second meeting of organization representatives will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. By that time it is expected the executive committee will have been named and swung into action. Auditing, historical, advisory and several other committee groups will be named by the executive body.

CONTINUED WARM, PROPHET SAYS

Managers of Lima ice companies are wearing smiles these days that would make Douglas Fairbanks green with envy. Like drinking Postum there's a reason. Blame it on the weather man again. Tuesday, the prophet came thru with another prediction that would make any vendor of frozen aqua purring. "Generally fair and continued warm," was the report he meted out for this part of Ohio. Straw hats will go out of date, it is the latest prediction. Wear a cake of ice, instead.

WOMEN TO AID IN CAMPAIGN

Will Solicit Societies in Behalf of Jewish Fund

Women of Lima will assist in the campaign for $12,000 which Jews of Allen-co will conduct for the relief of war sufferers in Europe. Miss Selma Weisbaum and Mrs. Robert Stein will head a committee which will work among the various women's societies to secure funds.

The campaign opened with a meeting at Memorial hall, Monday evening. Dr. R. Englander, professor in Hebrew Union college there, spoke in place of Dr. David Philipson, who was originally announced. Dr. Philipson was retained in Cincinnati, to conduct a funeral.

Other speakers of the evening were Rev. Samuel Huecker, pastor of Market Street Presbyterian church, Eugene T. Lippincott, prosecuting attorney of Allen-co and L. E. Ludwig, attorney.

ROAD HEARING BEFORE COMMISSIONERS WEDNESDAY

Hearing on the Shreeves-rd, south of the Chicago and Erie tracks in Shawnee-twp will be resumed before the Allen-co board of commissioners Wednesday at 10 a. m. county time.

The road is designed to afford residents in Berryman addition a new outlet into the city. Original plans contemplated carrying the road south of the tracks to a point east of the river to intercept the Ft. Amanda-rd, or turning northeast on the west bank and cutting thru a new road to intercept North Shore drive.

Commissioners may not consider the plan on account of cost, they say. They favor crossing the tracks west of the Gethsemani cemetery and turning north to connect with Spencerville-rd.

OHIO REALTY MAY BE REAPPRAISED

Way Opened by Court's Ruling in Dayton Case

VALUATION INCREASE SEEN

Decision Made on Complaint Against Tax Assessment

COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—Reappraisal of all Ohio real estate with consequent increase in its valuation was thought today by state officials to have been made a possibility thru a ruling made in federal court here yesterday in a tax case brought by the Dayton Street Railway company.

The railway company sought an injunction against collection of its taxes due in June, 1931, alleging discrimination in that its valuation had been placed higher than a true value in money, while much other property was listed at less than such value.

The state tax commission, which fixes value on utilities, sought judgment on pleadings that the company had not availed itself of the prescribed channels of protest and appeal since it had paid its previous tax assessment on the same basis of valuation as complained of.

RULING OF COURT

Judge John E. Sater refused to dismiss the action, overruling the motion announcing the case would be heard on its merits.

In his opinion, Judge Sater declared that the constitution provided property be assessed by uniform rule according to its true value in money and that "if that rule is not observed and the basis of valuation is sixty per cent or any per cent less than 100 per cent, the courts will grant relief to those whose property is valued in excess of the adopted percentage."

A statement by the tax commission said the commission was presented with an "anomalous situation" that it was required by law to appraise at true monetary value and that failure of other taxing officials to do likewise had caused the court to "hold that the valuation so fixed by the commission is both illegal and fraudulent."

COURSES OPEN

Only two courses are open, the statement said. "Either the tax commission will have to stop fixing the values of utility property or reappraisal of other classes must be had thruout the state and must be made frequently to keep pace with changing values."

Under present laws county commissioners and auditors issue orders for reappraisal and since 1913, when this law was enacted, there have been comparatively few counties in which this has been done.

The case, it is said, will provide a precedent for a number of similar cases brought in various courts by utilities corporations.

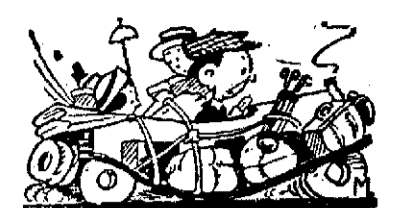

CHARLES W. BAER DIES AT HOME OF PARENTS

Charles W. Baer, 35, former resident of Marion, died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Baer, 735 E. Elm-st. Tuesday at 12:10 a. m. He was born in Marion. Baer had been in the southwest for relief from tuberculosis, but some weeks ago came to the home of his parents here. He has been ill for eight years.

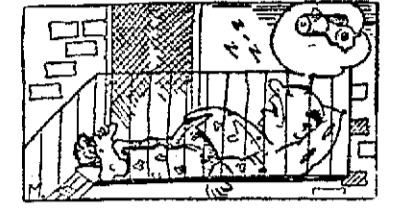

The widow and five children, ranging in age from 16 to 7 years, survive, together with the parents, three brothers and one sister. The body was accompanied to Marion Tuesday. Funeral services will be held there at St. Mary's Catholic church Thursday morning. Interment will be in Marion.

June Brings Balmy Days, Packed Flies

June, the month of "rare" days and vacations is witnessing the taxing to capacity of many a flyver in these parts. Scores of 'em, loaded down with vacation paraphernalia, hubby, wife and the kids are being driven in and out of the city, to parts unannounced. The continued warm weather is blamed for much of it. Many citizens of Lima, as well as of other cities in this section of the country, are seeking relief from the sweltering atmosphere that hangs heavy over a community these days. Night prowlers who steal thru the streets when the sun is hidden behind the horizon report that fire escapes, because of the warmth, are already becoming popular bedsteads. Outdoor air has sleeping in a stuffy apartment bedrooms beat a mile, occupants of the apartments declare.

Chief Mack might relieve the situation for the kiddies at least, if he has a few extra feet of fire hose. The kiddies enjoy nothing so much as being able to dance about in the heavy spray that comes from a nozzle. Watch 'em around a fire on a hot day, if you don't believe it.

And last but not least, the mosquito has arrived, for good—or bad. "For bad," one of the boys insists tween profits and just wages will result in lowered morale, thus reductions will not result in economies," the minority opinion said.

Seems he had a little engagement with his lady friend the other night. They wandered to a bench in Fawcett park where they parked for a while—until Mr. Mosquito interfered. The chap insists it was a mosquito, but his lady friend is still angry.

"The majority failed to carry out the function for which the board was created," continued the minority report. "Such decisions giving no explanation to the public for the process by which the majority arrive at the rates established gives the public an impression that these rates are not founded upon a careful consideration of facts."

"The duty of the labor body as a constructive, impartial body in providing means whereby railroad employees can have their legitimate human needs satisfied without recourse to stoppages and to enlighten the public so that thru the state of unregulated industry and the confusion of propaganda, they shall be able to see the real facts as they affect the body politic. This decision fulfills neither of these duties."

An ordinance prohibiting the erection of curb filling stations under any conditions and drive-in stations only when they are set back from the street at least 50 feet and have the consent of three-fourths of the property owner for a radius of 300 feet, was passed.

DEMANDS ARREST OF DETECTIVES

Boy Induced by Sleuths to Buy Liquor, Father Says

ECHO OF J. A. STATES CASE

Former County Commissioner Accused of Contributing

Dry detectives who are alleged to have induced Donald States, 15, to purchase liquor of his grandfather Aaron States prominent Monroeville farmer and former county commissioner, may face charges of contributing to the delinquency of the boy.

States, whose name is chiselled on the corner stone of the courthouse, pleaded not guilty to a delinquency charge before Judge J. H. Hamilton in juvenile court. He will be accorded a hearing Friday.

Clinton States, Monroeville, father of the boy told Judge Hamilton he wanted all parties concerned prosecuted.

"These men who persuaded Don to get this whiskey are as guilty as the man who sold it," States declared.

clared. "I am between two fires, but I want justice done."

Don told Judge Hamilton he had never purchased whiskey before. Efforts may be made by Putnam authorities who first had the case in hand to prosecute the lad under the Crabbe Act. Hamilton says this cannot be done. The juvenile charge takes precedence, in his opinion.

Don States has been in three courts since first arrested by the dry sleuths. He finally confessed to purchasing two quarts of liquor from his grandfather for $8 a quart, and selling it to the detective for $12.

Judge Hamilton has announced his intention of bringing the two sleuths into court. He is not concerned with the liquor angle of the case, he announced. The detectives reside in Kenton.

Osgood Wants Department Equipped With Bertillon

AWAITS NECESSARY FUNDS

Would Supply City With Modern Criminal Record

Among the things needed to bring the Lima police department up to metropolitan efficiency is finger print and photographic apparatus, Harry N. Osgood, city purchasing agent, believes.

With this equipment added to the police department it would be possible to not only apprehend criminals, but also to keep a complete record of those picked up by the local police.

Cost of the apparatus needed is placed at $800 by Osgood. This is a very small amount to pay for the protection and aid it would provide, he believes.

Among the records it would be possible to keep would be finger prints, Bertillon measurements, photographs of prisoners and photographs of places robbed or the scene of any crime.

ONE IN CITY

At the present time there is no up-to-date fingerprint camera in the city. There is one owned by a local photographer, but it lacks several improvements.

One of these is an interior lighting device. The camera is placed over the finger prints, a light inside the camera turned on and the picture snapped.

Several members of the police force are studying fingerprints and would be able to take charge of this department should it be established at any time. Osgood said to photograph prisoners, especially those arrested for felonies. Under the present conditions it is almost impossible to do this, it is stated.

Photographs are also very useful in presenting a case before a jury and many times, where a jury cannot be shown the actual surroundings of a murder or a robbery, it will mean the winning of the case, officials say.

Bertillon records, while not as accurate and positive as fingerprint records, are very valuable and it would be easy for them to be kept by the local police department, Osgood believes.

FUNDS NECESSARY

At the present time funds are not available for the installation of the identification department but with a revaluation of property and an increase in tax receipts it may be possible for the city to buy the necessary equipment, it is declared.

A machine-gun, equipped, high-powered automobile and two motorcycles are also needed, Osgood said. The motorcycles will pay for themselves by bringing in speeders, he added.

ROADS YOU'D LIKE

IF you drive a car, you'll be interested in this: When the government finishes up the roads it is helping build, the country will have a network of 180,000 miles of surface main highways, connecting Atlantic and Pacific coasts and our northern and southern borders.

To travel over that much road, you'd have to drive your car 30 miles an hour, 24 hours a day, for 250 days.

Road projects under way in 1921 amounted to nearly 65,000 miles—about 11 times across the continent and back. During the year Uncle Sam and the states built 11,930 miles of federal-aid highways.

We are developing a great civilization here in America, for road building is in all centuries the measure of progress.

The speed with which, compared with former civilizations, we have flung a network of good roads thru our wilderness and mountains and across our plains, is little short of amazing.

The first state road-building program was started only 101 years ago in Kentucky, when Abraham Lincoln was a boy of 12.

Traffic-on-wheels originated in China and Egypt, where carts were first invented.

Those first carts moved on wheels and axles carved out of one solid piece of stone. It took centuries for man to conceive of the axle being separate from the wheels.

The old Romans, master road builders, had 29 paved highways out of Rome. Over pavements of brick and mineral cement they drove their lumbering chariots with iron-rimmed wheels.

Joy-riders of those days lounged in reed-work baskets mounted on solid wheels about a foot thick.

Think of that when riding in a flivver seems bumpy.

Man's battle for good roads has been going on for thousands of years, ever since prehistoric man cleared a path thru the jungles.

It may be that the roads of the future will be in the air, with flying machines carrying passengers and freight.

That, however, is bound to be a long way off. It is good to dream about. But, meantime, let's keep our feet on the ground and get behind the good-roads movement stronger than ever. Prosperity and recreation come slowly over bad roads.

CHINCH BUG PEST

THE Allen County Farm Bureau has sounded the tocsin of alarm in a matter that affects the 1922 crops on farms in this county. The average city dweller apparently is not greatly concerned when he hears or reads about a pest that threatens the destruction of farm crops.

However, little as he may realize it, he would be the first to suffer in event of a general failure of the bounties of nature. In view of this fact, those not of the farm, as well as the men and women who till the soil are vitally interested in the warfare the county farm bureau declares is necessary to be made upon an invasion of chinch bugs. In places entire fields of barley have been destroyed and the bugs are so numerous that where they choose to work the ground is literally covered with them.

Fear is expressed that they will next attack corn fields. Means to prevent this have been suggested. It is up to the farmer to act. It is up to the city dweller to cooperate in every way possible. Both are vitally interested. County agents from nine counties will assemble here Friday to discuss the situation and meetings in various townships of the county.

have been arranged to take up the problem of chinch bug control.

Residents of cities and towns also are confronting an opportunity to aid in lessening the danger of farm crops being destroyed in heeding the order given them by the state agricultural department to destroy barberry bushes on their premises before June 10. Dig them up by the roots and burn the shrubs which breed spores that grow rust on the stalks of cereals and destroy the crops.

HONORING THE FLAG

FUNDAMENTALLY, the lodge of Elks is a patriotic organization. It is founded on the broad principles of patriotism, fidelity, charity and brotherly love. When want stalks, charity is the greatest of these, but during the month of June—on the 14th—the annual recurrence of Flag Day, patriotism and love of country and its institutions stir in a special manner the hearts of these lodgemen, as well as all other true Americans.

Hence, it is eminently proper that particular honor should be paid to the American Flag, the Stars and Stripes, on a day set apart for that purpose. In every community where a lodge of Elks exists, or where members of the order have their abiding place, Elks take a leading part in ceremonies designed to honor Old Glory.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

TRAGEDY OF DEAFNESS

Probably no infirmity steals on one so much like a thief in the night as deafness. Nor is there any so irreparable when once established. Relief is always possible and some arrest of the affliction's advance but no cure. Most people with defective hearing give little heed until they realize, by accident, perhaps, that they cannot hear the watch or the clock tick as they are wont to do, or until there is a roaring in the ears or a dizzy spell.

The ear mechanism is extraordinarily complicated and delicate, peculiarly affected by catarrh of the nose and throat, by inflammations extending to the middle ear via the Eustachian tube.

Most chronic deafness results from frequent and consecutive colds in the head, from congestions in the upper air passages, and often as a result of grippe, pneumonia, meningitis, tuberculosis, or other bacteria. Or inflammation will close up that tube, destroying the equilibrium which ought naturally to obtain between the air inside the ear drum and the air without the drum in the external ear.

It is not generally realized how great a handicap deafness is in the modern struggle for existence.

The number of those who are becoming deaf is constantly increasing. Their efficiency lessens with their hearing. And their mental activity is progressively diminished, because the acuteness and the sureness of their mental process, of their perceptions and consequently of their judgments, depend very largely on the sensations conveyed to their brains via their sense organs.

So, if you would prevent deafness, beware of colds. Treat them promptly, never allow one to run along for a considerable length of time.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

—BY BERTON BRALEY—

THE MESSAGE

The school-days are pretty near ended
And back in each healthy kid's mind
The thought of his studies is blended
With thoughts of a different kind;
He's dreaming of summer vacation
When lessons won't wrinkle his brow,
And thinking, with great jubilation,
'The swimmin' hole's warm enough now!'

He's visioning gay days of freedom
When books won't conflict with his fun,
When he needn't see 'em or read 'em,
But get out and play in the sun;
When, naked and brown, by the river
He'll loudly and proudly avow
(In spite of his muscles that shiver)
'The swimmin' hole's warm enough now!'

Tho' over his lessons he drowns,
He'll be wide awake with a bang
When summer's blithe advent arouses
The vigor and zest of "the gang."
The boy hears the luring winds humming;
They whisper a message, somehow,
His season of liberty's coming,
'The swimmin' hole's warm enough now!'

An Open Letter to the People of Lima

Mr. and Mrs. Home-Owner:

Answer these questions for yourself—they are important. They are just as vital to you as the food you eat, the water you drink—as important as good habits of living.

In Winter:

- (1) Is your skin often dry—are your throat and nasal passages irritated?
- (2) Do you often shiver when you go out of doors?
- (3) Do you "catch cold" easily?
- (4) Do you have headaches if you stay in the house all day?
- (5) Are those in your family more often ill in Winter than in the Summer time?

You should be able to answer NO to every question. If your heating system is doing its duty you would be able to answer NO.

The quality of the air in your home in Winter is of tremendous importance. Bad air, haphazard, drafty ventilation lowers your resistance, clouds your brain, makes you irritable and destroys vitality. Every cubic foot of your rooms should be properly ventilated without draft AT ALL TIMES. Only one thing can do it—THE PROPER HEATING SYSTEM.

- (1) Are you burning more than a ton of fuel per room per year, i. e., seven tons for a seven room house?
- (2) Are you bothered with fuel dust, gas, ashes, soot or smoke—does your system interfere in any way with cleanliness?
- (3) Will it burn any fuel—hard or soft coal, coke, oil, gas, lignite, screenings or wood?

Millions of tons of fuel are wasted every year, because home owners fail to keep records of fuel consumption. If they knew how much they waste they would refuse to tolerate their present heating systems another month.

- (1) Does your heating system take up wall space—does it interfere with furnishings in any room?
- (2) Do you get service the minute your heating system fails to operate to your complete satisfaction?

- (3) Does it furnish ample hot water?
- (4) Did you get a written GUARANTEE when it was installed?
- (5) Did a heating engineer go over your house and PLAN the job?

Thousands of home owners in this city are entitled to better heating—they would give greater attention to this important subject if they actually knew what they have a right to expect when they buy. You are honestly entitled to:

- (1) A heating system that completely ventilates all your home—day and night—with healthfully moistened warm air.
- (2) A heating system that will not waste any fuel you care to burn—that will not streak your walls with dust, soot—that will never let smoke or gas into your rooms.
- (3) That will warm every room in your home to even temperature.
- (4) That will leave all your living rooms FREE OF HEATING APPARATUS.
- (5) That is easily operated—quickly installed.
- (6) That furnishes hot water.
- (7) That leaves your basement free of heat wasting pipes.
- (8) That will not heat your basement.
- (9) An installation that is planned by competent engineers AND GUARANTEED TO HEAT YOUR HOME TO YOUR ENTIRE SATISFACTION.

LET US SHOW YOU THAT THE CONVECTOR WILL DO THESE THINGS—AND MORE. LET US PROVE THAT THIS REMARKABLE SYSTEM IS THE CORRECT ONE FOR YOUR HOME—THAT IT WOULD PAY YOU TO INSTALL IT IF IT COST MORE THAN OTHER HEATING TYPES—INSTEAD OF LESS!

Ask us about our EASY PAYMENT PLAN. Let us tell you how you can have the Convector installed now—for a lifetime of the best heating service you have ever enjoyed. No obligation. We simply want to prove our statements.

WILLING TO LET PUBLIC SAY WHAT IT WANTS

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
MUCH talent is wasted on worthless stories in the movies. The public cries for better stories. No one knows better than the producer that "the story's the thing."
 Selection of stories to serve as photoplays is largely arbitrary with one or two men in a producing organization.
 Hugo Ballin has a new idea. He is going to ask the public to name the story or novel on which he will base his next picture.
 Ballin says he will film the story, not previously pictured, which receives the most votes. That, provided some other producer has not purchased screen rights to it.
 Such a project should prove doubly interesting. It would show to what extent the public is really interested in the nature of stories and would show what type of photoplay is most interesting.

THE KICK-BACK
 If Ballin films a story selected by a large number of film fans he will have a hard task before him. Every last mother's son and daughter of them will have a definite idea of how the story should be filmed and few will have the same idea. And each will be a critic ready to sit in judgment on Ballin's work.

MRS. HAMMERSTEIN'S DEBUT
 Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, widow of the New York impresario, now reported engaged to an Italian prince, is making her debut as a movie actress in "What's Wrong With the Women?" The story is by Daniel Carson Goodman. The cast is prestigious, including Wilton Lackaye, Barbara Castleon, Montagu Love, Freda Ruge, Hedda Hopper, Huntley Gordon, Julia Swayne Gordon, Constance Bennett. The last named is a daughter of Richard Bennett, the actor.

We are developing a great civilization here in America, for road building is in all centuries the measure of progress.

The speed with which, compared with former civilizations, we have flung a network of good roads thru our wilderness and mountains and across our plains, is little short of amazing.

The first slate road-building program was started only 101 years ago in Kentucky, when Abraham Lincoln was a boy of 12.

Traffic-on-wheels originated in China and Egypt, where carts were first invented.

Those first carts moved on wheels and axles carved out of one solid piece of stone. It took centuries for man to conceive of the axle being separate from the wheels.

The old Romans, master road builders, had 29 paved highways out of Rome. Over pavements of brick and mineral cement they drove their lumbering chariots with iron-rimmed wheels.

Joy-riders of those days lounged in reed-work baskets mounted on solid wheels about a foot thick.

Think of that when riding in a flivver seems bumpy.

Man's battle for good roads has been going on for thousands of years, ever since prehistoric man cleared a path thru the jungles.

It may be that the roads of the future will be in the air, with flying machines carrying passengers and freight.

That, however, is bound to be a long way off. It is good to dream about. But, meantime, let's keep our feet on the ground and get behind the good-roads movement stronger than ever. Prosperity and recreation come slowly over bad roads.

CHINCH BUG PEST

THE Allen County Farm Bureau has sounded the tocsin of alarm in a matter that affects the 1922 crops on farms in this county. The average city dweller apparently is not greatly concerned when he hears or reads about a pest that threatens the destruction of farm crops.

However, little as he may realize it, he would be the first to suffer in event of a general failure of the bounties of nature. In view of this fact, those not of the farm, as well as the men and women who till the soil are vitally interested in the warfare the county farm bureau declares is necessary to be made upon an invasion of chinch bugs. In places entire fields of barley have been destroyed and the bugs are so numerous that where they choose to work the ground is literally covered with them.

Fear is expressed that they will next attack corn fields. Means to prevent this have been suggested. It is up to the farmer to act. It is up to the city dweller to cooperate in every way possible. Both are vitally interested. County agents from nine counties will assemble here Friday to discuss the situation and meetings in various townships of the county.

the B & O. whistle was blowing five o'clock and St. Rose was tolling six o'clock and the court house was backing up the B & O Reached North and Main at 7:30 but traffic was so congested it was 8:30 at my desk. Our factory now working General Ryne's time and making the mails on Judge Becker's time.

So out to find a great hub bub among banks and merchants because farmers and small town residents are in revolt. Four Corner farmers take out their funds to deposit in Delphos. They claim when they get washed up and cranked up, the banks are closed nextabouts and the tellers playing golf before they can arrive. The traffic hobbles have the autists bluffed so they won't become criminals in order to buy in Lima. And methinks you can't blame a farmer for being afraid of a cop. They, the cops, never did look good to me.

So, to lunch with the Rotarians at H. Freedman's beanery. And, who should be my co-eaters but Mayor Brud and General Byng in persons. During our devours we discoursed long on the parking laws, they, (Brud and Byng), being all for what the people wanted. But the dear people can't agree among themselves. So, we resolved to test out how popular it will be to discommodate the "regular" parkers. The office men who use the streets in front of their offices as open air garages all the business hours thru Now yell, realtors, lawyers, doctors lawyers.

Out at 1 o'clock, and met a lawyer going home to lunch as it was only 12 for him. We'll never miss Keith vanderbilt while enjoying our own act, The Time Triplets—East-ern, Sun and Standard. Yet, there are economies. Last night my rich sister came up for dinner, but when she got here, dinner was over. So we gave her an egg sandwich. She was mad, but we saved a dish of soup, probably two cuts of ribs of beef, at least three new potatoes and a hot house tomato, besides a quarter-cut of apple pie, with cheese. It was a cruel way to treat her, but I blamed it on the Kommish and Lew Larsen.

Met Billy Steenie, over from Delphos, and accepted his invitation. Thence home to dinner, and found my wife, poor wretch, darning at socks and remodelling Dea's wardrobe, and humming the Wabash blues in rhythm with the stitches. In the evening, road long on the new Herkeshelmer taylor about Cuba Brining nearer the trip there Dr. Kinsey the 11 is to take with me, so to bed.

Residents of cities and towns also are confronting an opportunity to aid in lessening the danger of farm crops being destroyed in heading the order given them by the state agricultural department to destroy barberry bushes on their premises before June 10. Dig them up by the roots and burn the shrubs which breed spores that grow rust on the stalks of cereals and destroy the crops.

HONORING THE FLAG

FUNDAMENTALLY, the lodge of Elks is a patriotic organization. It is founded on the broad principles of patriotism, fidelity, charity and brotherly love. When want stalks, charity is the greatest of these, but during the month of June—on the 14th—the annual recurrence of Flag Day, patriotism and love of country and its institutions stir in a special manner the hearts of these lodgemen, as well as all other true Americans.

Hence, it is eminently proper that particular honor should be paid to the American Flag, the Stars and Stripes, on a day set apart for that purpose. In every community where a lodge of Elks exists, or where members of the order have their abiding place, Elks take a leading part in ceremonies designed to honor Old Glory.

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

TRAGEDY OF DEAFNESS

Probably no infirmity steals on one so much like a thief in the night as deafness. Nor is there any so irreparable when once established. Relief is always possible and some arrest of the affliction's advance but no cure.

Most people with defective hearing give little heed until they realize, by accident, perhaps, that they cannot hear the watch or the clock tick as they are wont to do, or until there is a roaring in the ears or a dizzy spell.

The ear mechanism is extraordinarily complicated and delicate, peculiarly affected by inflammations of the nose and throat by inflammations extending to the middle ear via the Eustachian tube.

Most chronic deafness results from frequent and consecutive colds in the head, from congestions in the upper air passages, and often as a result of grippe, pneumonia, meningitis, tuberculosis, or other bacteria. Or inflammation will close up that tube, destroying the equilibrium which ought naturally to obtain between the air inside the ear drum and the air without the drum in the external ear.

It is not generally realized how great a handicap deafness is in the modern struggle for existence. The number of those who are becoming deaf is constantly increasing. Their efficiency lessens with their hearing. And their mental activity is progressively diminished, because the acuteness and the sureness of their mental process, of their perceptions and consequently of their judgments, depend very largely on the sensations conveyed to their brains via their sense organs.

So, if you would prevent deafness, beware of colds. Treat them promptly, never allow one to run along for a considerable length of time.

POEMS YOU WILL ENJOY

—BY BERTON BRALEY—

THE MESSAGE

The school-days are pretty near ended
And back in each healthy kid's mind
The thought of his studies is blended
With thoughts of a different kind;
He's dreaming of summer vacation
When lessons won't wrinkle his brow,
And thinking, with great jubilation,
"The swimmin' hole's warm enough now!"

He's visioning gay days of freedom
When books won't conflict with his fun,
When he needn't see 'em or read 'em,
But get out and play in the sun;
When, naked and brown, by the river
He'll loudly and proudly avow
(In spite of his muscles that shiver)
"The swimmin' hole's warm enough now!"

Tho' over his lessons he drowns,
He'll be wide awake with a bang
When summer's blithe advent arouses
The vigor and zest of "the gang."
The boy hears the luring winds humming;
They whisper a message, somehow,
His season of liberty's coming,
"The swimmin' hole's warm enough now!"

An Open Letter to the People of Lima

Mr. and Mrs. Home-Owner:

Answer these questions for yourself—they are important. They are just as vital to you as the food you eat, the water you drink—as important as good habits of living.

In Winter:

- (1) Is your skin often dry—are your throat and nasal passages irritated?
- (2) Do you often shiver when you go out of doors?
- (3) Do you "catch cold" easily?
- (4) Do you have headaches if you stay in the house all day?
- (5) Are those in your family more often ill in Winter than in the Summer time?

You should be able to answer NO to every question. If your heating system is doing its duty you would be able to answer NO.

The quality of the air in your home in Winter is of tremendous importance. Bad air, haphazard, drafty ventilation lowers your resistance, clouds your brain, makes you irritable and destroys vitality. Every cubic foot of your rooms should be properly ventilated without draft AT ALL TIMES. Only one thing can do it—THE PROPER HEATING SYSTEM.

- (1) Are you burning more than a ton of fuel per room per year, i. e., seven tons for a seven room house?
- (2) Are you bothered with fuel dust, gas, ashes, soot or smoke—does your system interfere in any way with cleanliness?
- (3) Will it burn any fuel—hard or soft coal, coke, oil, gas, lignite, screenings or wood?

Millions of tons of fuel are wasted every year, because home owners fail to keep records of fuel consumption. If they knew how much they waste they would refuse to tolerate their present heating systems another month.

- (1) Does your heating system take up wall space—does it interfere with furnishings in any room?
- (2) Do you get service the minute your heating system fails to operate to your complete satisfaction?

- (3) Does it furnish ample hot water?
- (4) Did you get a written GUARANTEE when it was installed?
- (5) Did a heating engineer go over your house and PLAN the job?

Thousands of home owners in this city are entitled to better heating—they would give greater attention to this important subject if they actually knew what they have a right to expect when they buy. You are honestly entitled to:

- (1) A heating system that completely ventilates all your home — day and night — with healthfully moistened warm air.
- (2) A heating system that will not waste any fuel you care to burn—that will not streak your walls with dust, soot—that will never let smoke or gas into your rooms.
- (3) That will warm every room in your home to even temperature.
- (4) That will leave all your living rooms FREE OF HEATING APPARATUS.
- (5) That is easily operated—quickly installed.
- (6) That furnishes hot water.
- (7) That leaves your basement free of heat wasting pipes.
- (8) That will not heat your basement.
- (9) An installation that is planned by competent engineers AND GUARANTEED TO HEAT YOUR HOME TO YOUR ENTIRE SATISFACTION.

LET US SHOW YOU THAT THE CONVECTOR WILL DO THESE THINGS—AND MORE. LET US PROVE THAT THIS REMARKABLE SYSTEM IS THE CORRECT ONE FOR YOUR HOME—THAT IT WOULD PAY YOU TO INSTALL IT IF IT COST MORE THAN OTHER HEATING TYPES—INSTEAD OF LESS!

Ask us about our EASY PAYMENT PLAN. Let us tell you how you can have the Convector installed now—for a lifetime of the best heating service you have ever enjoyed. No obligation. We simply want to prove our statements.

WILLING TO LET PUBLIC SAY WHAT IT WANTS

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
MUCH talent is wasted on worthless stories in the movies. The public cries for better stories. No one knows better than the producer that "the story's the thing."
 Selection of stories to serve as photoplays is largely arbitrary with one or two men in a producing organization.
 Hugo Ballin has a new idea. He is going to ask the public to name the story or novel on which he will base his next picture.
 Ballin says he will film the story, previously picturized, which received the most votes. That, provided some other producer has not purchased screen rights to it.
 Such a project should prove doubly interesting. It would show to what extent the public is really interested in the nature of stories and would show what type of photoplay is most interesting.

THE KICK-BACK
 Ballin films a story selected by a large number of film fans. He will have a hard task before him. Every last mother's son and daughter of them will have a definite idea of how that story should be filmed and few will have the same idea. And each will be a critic ready to sit in judgment on Ballin's work.

MRS. HAMMERSTEIN'S DEBUT
 Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein, widow of the New York impresario, now reported engaged to an Italian prince, is making her debut as a movie actress in "What's Wrong With the Women?" The story is by Daniel Carson Goodman. The cast is pretentious, including Wilton Lackaye, Barbara Castleton, Montagu Love, Rod La Roque, Hedda Hopper, Hunter Gordon, Julia Swayne Gordon, Constance Bennett. The last named is a daughter of Richard Bennett, the actor.

On Wings of Wireless

by ARTHUR B REEVE

START HERE

Guy Garrick and his wireless expert, Dick Defoe, seek the trail of a girl who disappeared at a fashionable ball near New York. They fear the girl is in the hands of a crook. Their quest leads them to "Sea Vamp," a yacht-like houseboat frequented by Ruth and her questionable friends. They know Ruth often goes there, who is feared by Ruth's mother and distrusted by themselves.

CHAPTER II
THE SEA VAMP

WITH a siren blast and a swirl of dusty air a yellow racer shot past Garrick and Dick before they were a mile down the turnpike. It was a kaleidoscopic impression of a girl at the wheel and a fellow looting back tensely in the other bucket seat.

"Ruth!" exclaimed Dick as Garrick mechanically threw in more power.

"Who was with her?"

"Glenn Buckley."

Garrick's motor leaped ahead as he stepped on it. Straightaway down the turnpike they raced. Garrick was just about holding his own. But Ruth had the jump and there was no chance to pass her. She was not a wise driver. Having shot ahead of a car she did not slacken a fraction and she knew that that always makes it nearly impossible to catch one.

A bend in the turnpike toward the south and a dirt road forked off. Ruth slowed up just a bit, turned her head with a pearly smile. "I've framed her sensitive features in an aura of sunlight. Garrick saw with approval that Ruth had been strong-minded enough to hold to her curls during the days of bobbed hair.

Could those laughing, frank eyes know of crime, or anything coarse?"

"You here, Dick?" she danced up to him. "Were you afraid to come alone? Then with a twinkling shaft at Garrick, "What do you think of us... Mr. Sherlock?"

"Exclusively fifty!" smiled Garrick, then turned quickly as one of the youngsters muttered, "Snooping again! What does he want? You can just bet he's not here for a swim... Come on, fellows. He's been here long enough. I move we put them off the beach. Hey, all ready... let's give them the bum's rush!"

A general laugh followed. There was an uncertain motion. Ruth flared.

"At least we can show Guy and Dick we're not so exclusive that we're rotten!" I feel partly responsible for their being partly responsible on the road and dared them to follow—and here they are—eh, Glenn? Just this once, boys. They'll not bother us again. I'll sponsor them. Come on, Glenn, smile a little and be nice."

Ruth capered over to Dick, took him by the arm and started up the beach. Guy followed with Virg, while Glenn sulked.

"I wish you had your bathing suit on, Dick. I'd enjoy a swim across the harbor with you this hot forenoon."

She nodded vivaciously back at Garrick. Even if she were doing a bit of hasty figuring on the way of their presence, thought Guy, she was perfectly at ease. Her graceful limbs showed fascinating lines thru the folds of the cape she had carelessly thrown over her. "No wonder Dick's frantic over her," he thought. "She's a dangerous combination!"

Still chatting, Ruth and Virg stepped into the canoe with Dick and Guy, while the others plunged into the water and swam. They soon slipped alongside the houseboat with its gilt letters SEA VAMP.

Garrick realized as they mounted the ladder that the marine engine had materially changed the old-time houseboat from a mere scow or barge with a low flat house on it moored in a bay or river and only with difficulty and expense towed from one place to another. Now the houseboat like the "Sea Vamp" was really a fair-sized yacht.

She was perhaps sixty feet long and a most attractive craft with a hull yacht in appearance and of a type which could safely make long runs along the coast, a staunch, seaworthy boat—of course without the speed of a regularly designed yacht, but more than making up in comfort for those on board what was lost in speed.

As they approached she had looked her over carefully. One of the first things he noted was that strung from two masts forward and astern was the aerial of a wireless.

They clambered aboard and dragged up the canoe. At the stern they saw a stockily-built man in sea togs making fast a dory, and taking out a rather complete set of fishing tackle and other duff.

"Hey Cap'n greeted Glenn, shaking the water from his eyes as he bounded on deck. "Any luck?"

"That's Captain Brock," asided

Ruth to Garrick. "We hire him to take charge of the 'Sea Vamp'."

"Too early for shappers, yet. Got a couple of flat fish—and an eel," he caught sight of Guy and Dick and glowered under bushy eyebrows. "Who are they?" he growled under his breath.

"They're with me, Captain," explained Ruth. "Mr. Garrick and Mr. Defoe, Captain Brock. Just a couple of friends who are interested in how I spend my time."

"Well, so long as it's time they are looking for, all right."

Garrick could not resist a startled second glance as, tucked away in the duff with great care, he caught sight of an electron tube, with filament and grids, precisely the latest type used in radio receiving. He nudged Dick, but Dick was equally quick. The fishing pole was equipped with a miniature aerial and he had noticed it.

Neither betrayed their interest or the burning curiosity they felt as Brock clumped forward with his stuff. Why, when Brock was even fishing, away from the "Sea Vamp," did he carry this compact wireless receiving set? What station must he be always in touch with, or what message did he expect that he must be listening in?

"Excuse us. We'll go down below. Get the shaker and some ice and you know. I guess we can entertain," trilled Virg.

Alone in the comfortably furnished saloon Garrick glanced at Dick, who shrugged at the unconventionality of it all, then made a hasty survey of the place. At one end was a sort of closet or clothes press. "Snooping," he nodded as he opened the door.

Inside hung a nondescript array of old clothes. In the back corner, on the floor where it had been thrown lay a girl's cloth hat. He picked it up, smoothed it out, then with a suppressed "Ouch!" drew his hand away and loosened a pin caught in its folds.

"It's—a diamond clasp—initials V. G.—Vira Gerard?"

Diamond clasp... that's one of the pieces of missing jewelry, whispered Dick excitedly. "Say—hold that again! You had it. There. By Jove, it's not only a-hat. It's a bag! Tomato color," they said the girl at the Radio Dance put the stuff in a little tomato colored bag. By Jove!"

"Here's a camera, too," was all Garrick answered. He turned the camera over, saw the number "66," then deftly unloaded it and dropped the roll of film into his coat pocket.

There was a step on the companionway. Softly he crept up, rolled the hat lightly and stuffed it in his hip pocket under the tail of his coat.

The party thawed a little bit as he does. He straddles his star with his bow legs and away he goes."

Mr. Peerabout, the Man-in-the-Moon, was telling Nancy and Nick about Comet-Legs—the jealous fairy who rode thru the sky on a shooting star and made him so much trouble.

"Yes," he nodded. "That's the way he does. He straddles his star with his bow legs and away he goes to see how much trouble he can make."

"Sometimes he goes to the earth and sprinkles fog around so folks can't see me. Sometimes when I'm gone, he comes here to my house and reads my mail and finds out what kind of a moon folks want."

Then he changes the words, and I send moonlight when it's not wanted, and 'tother way 'round. He gets me in wrong all the time."

"Sometimes he goes and calls on Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, the Weather-man, and whispers mischief to the Four Winds. They begin to blow up banks of clouds between me and the earth and folks can't see the moon for days 'at days."

"The think old Comet-Legs is trying hardest of all to do is to discover where I keep my engine."

Glenn drew a curtain of a built-in sideboard at the end of the saloon disclosing a very complete set, including the loud-speaking horn.

He adjusted and tuned and twirled knobs and dials until at last he had it. From the loud speaker came a girl's voice.

"It's Rae!" exclaimed Ruth. "Signal back that you get her."

Glenn officially played the radio operator.

A few minutes later came the voice, much clearer, from the loud speaker.

"Now—Glenn—get up closer to the loud speaker—on—no—no—you know—not your cheek, Glennie—"

There was a suppressed laugh. Glenn smiled, rather sheepishly. But he turned his face full toward the little horn.

Garrick had divined what was coming. "Sort of Freudian, eh?" he whispered to Ruth, who was calling her mother's repetition of Ruth's psychoanalysis.

"Huh!" laughed Ruth, taking no pains to modulate her tone. "More like the terrier—Miss Mistress Voice!"

"Come now—pout your lips, Glenn," came from the loud speaker followed by a laugh—then an unmistakable radio kiss.

Disconcerted after his ardent attention to Vira, Glenn for once looked as if he would have dropped thru into the hold.

Ruth glanced quickly from Glenn's chagrin to Vira's stony face, then saw the humor.

"Never mind, Glenn. She kissed a couple of thousand on that wave length then!"

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

COMET-LEGS PLOTS TO GAIN CONTROL OF MOON

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"He straddles his star with his bow legs and away he goes."

Mr. Peerabout, the Man-in-the-Moon, was telling Nancy and Nick about Comet-Legs—the jealous fairy who rode thru the sky on a shooting star and made him so much trouble.

"Yes," he nodded. "That's the way he does. He straddles his star with his bow legs and away he goes to see how much trouble he can make."

"Sometimes he goes to the earth and sprinkles fog around so folks can't see me. Sometimes when I'm gone, he comes here to my house and reads my mail and finds out what kind of a moon folks want."

Then he changes the words, and I send moonlight when it's not wanted, and 'tother way 'round. He gets me in wrong all the time."

"Sometimes he goes and calls on Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, the Weather-man, and whispers mischief to the Four Winds. They begin to blow up banks of clouds between me and the earth and folks can't see the moon for days 'at days."

"The think old Comet-Legs is trying hardest of all to do is to discover where I keep my engine."

house, where all the handles are—handles to guide the moon with on its travels.

"He's boasted that once he finds them, he's going to make the moon run backwards. He says folks will like that best."

"Then they'll put me out and make him the Man-in-the-Moon in my place."

Nancy and Nick, you may be sure, were all eyes and ears while Mr. Peerabout was talking. Never had they heard anything so strange.

"What would happen if the moon were to run the wrong way?" asked Nick.

"Fireworks," declared Mr. Peerabout. "It would bump into all the big stars and most likely blow up. But Comet-Legs is too stupid to know that."

"Why don't you let him find out?" suggested Nancy.

"And lose the moon!" exclaimed Mr. Peerabout. "Not if I can help it!"

HIS FRIEND RECOMMENDED THEM

"Six years ago," writes W. H. Shadwell, Stanley, Va., "I had kidney trouble, and at times was unable to raise myself in bed. Foley Kidney Pills were recommended to me by the Chief of the Fire Department. After using 3 bottles I was completely relieved and have never had a return of the symptoms."

GIRL NOW WELL AND STRONG

Daughter Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mother Advised

Wauseon, Ohio.—"My daughter always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet at those times. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing girls so much good so she began to take it. That is two years ago and she is a different girl since then able to do any work she wants to do—although she is still well and strong. We recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers with viable daughters, and I give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. A. M. BURKHOLDER, Route No. 2, Box 1, Wauseon, Ohio.

Something out of balance will affect the finest clock, causing it to gain or lose. The proper adjustment made, all is well. So it is with women. Some trouble may upset you completely.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct the cause of the trouble and disagreeable symptoms will disappear as they did in the case of Mrs. Burkholder's daughter.

Firpo Will Scoop
In Bit Of Coin

ANGEL FIRPO, heavy-weight champion of South America, who has been fighting in this country, and who has won his fights too, he has not won a single one, has sailed for Argentina, his home, to spend a few months, and undoubtedly to a little scrapping while he's there.

Probably the main object of the trip is to scoop in a bit of easy money.

It is likely enough also that Firpo enjoys the prospect of swelling around among his fellow South Americans in the role of premier fighter wonder of the world, which is just exactly what they think he is, regardless of what the official record has to say.

As a financial proposition there's no doubt the expedition will be a success. South Americans unquestionably will be eager to pay fancy prices just to look at him, to say nothing of seeing him fight. Even if he should take on a southern challenger or two he's little to worry about. He really is about the best heavyweight in the western hemisphere south of Panama, or, it may be, the Rio Grande.

The chief danger is that the audience he is sure to have heaped upon him will inflame his head. In his heart he certainly knows at present how little chance he stands against Jack Dempsey, say. It will be a sorry day for him if this realization of his limitations should happen to leak out of his mind.

It is announced that he expects to be back in the United States before the end of the year, probably traveling by way of Havana and London, and both of which places it's understood he plans Havana, if he comes himself to local talent, may be a very well. London will be a fair place for him.

PHILADELPHIA — Boxing enthusiasts, who twice have been disappointed by postponement of the first round bout between Lew Tendler, of Philadelphia, and Bobby Barrett, Clifton Heights, Pa., awoke today with forebodings of a similar experience again tonight, for the weather early in the day was anything but promising for an open air fight.

Tendler has been matched for a round bout with Benny Leonard of Jersey City next month, is favored to win, altho Barrett has many backers.

GIANTS SUFFER WITH TOO MUCH CONFIDENCE

Baseball History Filled With Such Cases

BY BILLY EVANS
WHAT is the matter with the New York Giants?
Can it be that McGraw's great team is suffering from overconfidence?
It is the history of most world championship teams that they suffer from overconfidence during the early stages of the race.
I have seen this condition crop out a number of times in the American League with some club fortunate enough to have copped the world series.
The Cincinnati Reds of 1919 so suffered in 1920. The Reds had so decisively defeated the great club representing the Chicago White Sox that some of the Reds undoubtedly looked on the winning of the 1920 pennant as a mere formality of playing out the schedule.

ARE THEY TOO SURE?

Are the Giants affected with the overconfidence malady? It seems so.
While the eastern clubs were playing among themselves this spring the Giants ran rough-shod over Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston. In the first 20 games played with the eastern rivals the Giants won 16 and lost 4.

It certainly looked as if they outclassed the field McGraw's team threatened to do a Morvich and sew up the race by the Fourth of July. The other clubs in the National League were yelling murder at the pace the Giants were traveling. Even the St. Louis Cardinals, picked to make the going for them, were lost in the shuffle.

Then the Giants hit the western trail. It has been a sad, sad story ever since McGraw's club departed from the Polo Grounds. Of the 13 games played in the west the Giants won five and lost eight. It was a rather sorry showing for a club that was playing .500 ball when it went west.

OTHERS PICKING UP

In the meantime the Pittsburgh Pirates, who got away to a poor start, and the Cincinnati Reds, who also looked poorly in the early stages of the race, have been furnishing the thrills in the National League.

The Pirates now are strongly contesting the first place rights with the Giants. The Reds, by virtue of a run of seven straight wins, are not of the also ran class and are receiving considerable attention from the experts.

In the world series of 1921 the New York pitching looked great. Neph proved that he was a great left hander. Douglas pitched superbly, and Barnes in relief roles shone like one of the greatest pitchers in the world. Toney didn't have much luck in the series, altho he warmed up in fine style.

PLAY THURSDAY

Lima Shamrocks, conquerors of Conant Sunday by a 4-3 score, will be in action against the Lima Sheet Metal company club at Murphy-st park Thursday. The same Shamrock line-up that proved so effective in games played so far this season will be used.

FRESHMEN WIN BALL CHAMPIONSHIP OF CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Hail to the diamond champs of Central Hi!
The Freshmen emerged victors in the final game of the inter-class tournament at Central in an extra session game yesterday when they handed the Juniors a beating by the closest possible score, 8 to 7. The contest was engineered at the College field in a scheduled seven inning affair. The fight was full of thrills as first one side then the other took the lead. It was also featured by several good running catches in the outfield as well as a few pretty stops and throws on the diamond. The toss was lost by the Freshies and the upper classmen took the field.

FRESH TAKE LEAD
The Freshmen immediately took a one run lead on an error, a perfect sacrifice bunt and a wild pitch. The Juniors came back with the tying tally in their half. After two were out Seely hit to left for a base and found his way around by stealing a couple of sacks and a hit by Pew.

From then on the game was nip and tuck. Neither side scored in the second frame but the lower-classmen came back with a pair in the third only to have the Juniors pop into the lead by running three men across the platter in their half. The Juniors proceeded to tally once.

'SUSIE' SOLICITOUS FOR MRS. MALLORY

Mrs. Molla Mallory, the American tennis star who went to England in the dual hope of winning the championship at Wimbledon and of defeating Mile, Lenglen, who defaulted to her a year ago in this country, is having mixed luck at the game thus far.

She has beaten some antagonists and been beaten by others.
But it must be remembered that Mrs. Mallory hardly expected to begin winning as soon as she landed in Europe. She admittedly was out of practice. In these preliminary games she's merely getting into this year's form. Experts say she is playing great tennis, considering how little she's been doing of it for some months past, until very recently.

Fans are smiling a little over Mile Lenglen's comment when the news of Mrs. Mallory's defeat by Mrs. Beamish reached her:
"I'm sorry. Maybe Mrs. Mallory won't reach the finals at Wimbledon."
Maybe she won't, the experts say but they rather think she will. It's somewhat more than suspected that the French woman champion hasn't quite forgiven the American for having the better of her in their last match.

Jinxed, But Kirksey Keeps On Trying

"JINX" KIRKSEY

"JINX" KIRKSEY, who spent three college years at Stanford trying to beat Charlie Paddock to the tape in the 100-yard dash, is still trying this season to equal the champion's 9 3-5 second record.
Kirksey has trailed Paddock in all their races — but not by much. Once, a photograph shows, his foot was across the finish line ahead of Paddock's body, just as the latter touched the string.
Each time, however, there has been just a little margin in Paddock's favor at the end of the lane. Was Kirksey "jinxed?"
Kirksey has been practicing the hundred in phenomenal form this season — a fast 9:4 — despite some trouble with weak tendons in one leg.

TEX REPEATS BOUT OFFER TO CARP

NEW YORK — Mystified by his failure to receive a reply from Georges Carpentier to his cabled offer of $150,000 for a match in this country with Harry Greb, newly crowned American light heavyweight champion, Promoter Tex Rickard made it known today he had repeated his proposition to the French boxer.
Rickard plans to stage the contest, if successful, in signing Carpentier, at Boyle's Thirty Acres, no date has as yet been suggested.

CRIDERSVILLE HERE

Cridersville, which has put out a team of sluggers this season, will be represented on the South Side diamond here next Sunday in a game against the prospects. The clubs are evenly matched and an interesting game should result. The game begins at 2 p. m.

PECK HAS WORST YEAR OF CAREER

ROGER PECKINPAUGH, star shortstop of the Washington team, has been having the worst spring of his career.
Peckinpaugh himself finds it impossible for explanation.
Often some recruit is spoiled by too much publicity. The case of Peckinpaugh may be one of those unusual ones in baseball where a veteran is the victim of too much press advertising.
Peckinpaugh is rather inclined to that line of reasoning. In discussing his case he says:
"When I was secured by the Washington club many of the experts were kind enough to say that my addition to the team practically assured the pennant."
"That line of gossip was much published in Washington. It was said that with me at short Washington had the best infield in the American League, if not both leagues."
"Such kind words were all very lovely, but it seems there has been a reaction. The fans, having been fed on the pennant-winning talk, failed to take very kindly to the tail-end stuff that our club began pulling with the opening of the season."
"One never seldom makes out ball club. It was rather unfortunate for me that I was advertised as the man Washington needed to make certain a pennant in 1922. Our failure to show has made the goal.

IN RETIREMENT

MAN O' WAR is living in retirement at present on a stud farm in Kentucky.
Visitors drop in from every state in the union to see this, the greatest specimen of racing horseflesh of the century many of those who come to pay tribute never were interested in racing in the least until Man o' War's triumphs attracted their attention.
On the farm he's known as "Red." His constant attendant is his especial groom, a deep brunet of course, this being in "Old Kentucky," who answers, when formally addressed, to the name of "Buck," but who's much better known as "Po'k Chops."
"Red" exercises always under the saddle except during the grating period, as in his racing days.

STIGALL, GANS IN TITLE GO

Lil' Art Etigall, fast colored welter whom Indian Horner beat here several months ago, is moving everybody and everything to get another crack at either "Nubby Joe Gans of New Orleans or Horner in this city.
He holds both of them as obstacles to his ascendancy, as Horner holds a judges' decision and Gans bent the latter.
Peter Shaw, Cumberland, Maryland, promoter will put on Stigall and Panama Joe Gans, Leo Flynn's hope, acclaimed the colored welter-weight champ, in Cumberland July 3. The bout is heralded as being for the championship.
Several times Stigall has been on the verge of coming back here, but each time something or somebody intervened. He will in all probability be featured in a main go here soon.

St. Louis Catcher Ernie Vick of Michigan, a member of the mythical All-American football team last year, has been acquired by the St. Louis Nationals and joined the team at Boston yesterday.

SNARELY RESIGNS

MARIETTA — Carl G. Snarely, basketball, baseball and assistant football coach at Marietta College, has resigned and will coach Kieki Preparatory School at Saltzburg, Pa., next season, he announced today.

Giants Set For Test

NEW YORK — The Giants were ready to unfurl their 1921 National League championship banner today at the Polo grounds as a prelude to opening their first home stand of the season against rivals from the west, the Chicago Cubs forming the first line of the invasion. The world's series emblem, incidentally, will be floated to the breeze next Saturday when the Reds open a series on "George Burns Day" in honor of the ex-Giant, now with the Moran men.
While the western attack on eastern strongholds of the National League was slated to get fully under way, seaboard contenders in the junior circuit were at alien haunts in the other wing of the wheel for the first time.

BOSTON BESTS CARDS

The Braves lived up to their reputation as trouble makers for the leaders yesterday when Joe Oeschger, aided and abetted by stellar play on the part of his team mates, blanked the slugging Cardinals, 6 to 0. In the only game played in either major league. It was an inauspicious start for the westerners, generally regarded as the Giants most dangerous rivals, and incidentally the fifth straight light they have dropped to the Braves, who took the entire four game series recently at St. Louis. Four errors by the Cardinals helped the Hubmen, who hit Jeff Pfeffer hard until he was relieved in the sixth.

EVERITT ELECTED

COLUMBUS — Arlington Everitt, of Warren, Ohio, will be captain of Ohio State's 1923 track team. It was announced here today. Everitt is a quarter miler. He is a junior in the agricultural college.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Louis C. Bradshaw, Y. M. C. A. secretary, is teaching his cousin to play tennis. "She is very good," he says, "and doesn't mind to hit anything at all by her." In the excitement of her third game she swung at a passing sparrow, and missed it by only a few yards.

C. Williams reports a neighbor undertook to aid her cat which was being chased around the house by a small dog. She hit the dog with a broom. "The broom missed the dog," she says, "but it hit the cat and knocked it gally west."

Sam Asher tells of a friend who advertised for a trap drummer. He received a written application on the job which said: "I have never old traps. But I have been a drummer for seven years and I can tell you I can sell anything of mine."

Chief Lanter tells of a friend who reached his office in a downtown building and found he had left his keys at home. He went back for them. "Then, when he got into the outer office," he says, "I found the door to the inner office stuck and I was to send for a locksmith."

CADET CORPS IS START FOR RADIO ARMY

By COL. ERNEST E. SCHEUBLE
Commander, Radio Cadet Corps
NEW YORK.—Eventually every one will be a radio fan.

So why not start making him in early?

That's what we are doing in our Radio Cadet Corps. The first organization of its kind in the country.

At the age of 9 we begin teaching the youngster the fundamentals of wireless. By the time he is 12 or 13 he is a full-fledged fan—knowing enough about radio set to make practical use of it.

He can fix up his outfit anywhere. He can listen in and receive not only the broadcast programs but the code messages that are flashing thru the air at all times.

The call of radio sounds universal. The boy in the crowded city is just as keen to become an adept at it as his brother on the farm.

Our corps was organized in a congested Brooklyn district in 1919. The boys had heard so much about signaling in the war that they wanted to try their own hands at it.

Each week they would meet in a room of the public library. There they learned the code.

There was little equipment at

A DETAIL OF THE RADIO CADET CORPS. ARROW SHOWS COLONEL ERNEST E. SCHEUBLE, AT RIGHT CADET IRVING GGLANTZ, 10 HOLDING WHAT IS CLAIMED TO BE THE FIRST RADIO SET

one of the boys started to make their own sets. Others became interested.

When the radio craze struck the country last fall these boys were ready. They organized new units.

There are several hundred in the corps now—and the number is growing rapidly.

I see no reason why similar groups should not be organized throughout the country.

For disciplinary reasons it is suggested that the corps be formed on a military basis—with some distinctive uniform to give the group a solidarity.

It will help make them shipp. At the recent radio show in New York our boys won many prizes for their exhibits.

We are now going to check and make. No matter where we camp out the boys are always able to keep in touch with their homes—by radio.

It is rapidly becoming the new outdoor American sport.

RADIO PRIMER

ROTARY GAP—A spark gap consisting of a wheel with projecting points or knobs and a stationary electrode on each side. The spark jumps from one stationary electrode to one of the moving points of the wheel, crosses the wheel, jumps to the other electrode and out. The wheel's speed determines the number of sparks per second and its frequency.

TO STOP COUGHING AT NIGHT

A summer bronchitis cough keeps not only the sufferer but other members of the family awake. Alfred Barker, 1911 Wondale St., 1, Detroit, O. writes: "I consider it my duty to write and tell the results of Foley's Honey and Tar. I used it for a bronchitis cough for 7 or 8 weeks. Foley's Honey and Tar has done him wonderful good and I shall always recommend it." It soothes and heals.—Chas. J. Vorkamp, Mam and McKibben-Sts. adv.

Carbon Deposits cut down Power

DECREASED engine power can often be traced to carbon deposits in the combustion chamber. Such deposits prevent obtaining full efficiency from the gasoline fuel.

What causes carbon deposits, and how to keep such deposits at a minimum, is interestingly told in our comprehensive booklet, "Gasoline." Many other things which affect the efficient and economical operation of your car are discussed, all in a simple, instructive way. A free copy of the booklet awaits your call at any Red Crown service station or dealer.
